

ALL ABOARD: INTERROGATION EXPRESS

No one knows how many terror suspects the United States has rendered to foreign governments, but the total is believed to be several hundred. Terror suspects say they have been rendered to Egypt, Jordan, Syria, Uzbekistan, and Afghanistan, where they allege that they were tortured as part of being interrogated. The U.S. State Department reports patterns of torture in each of these countries.

